

Table of Contents

List of Figures	iii
Preface	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
Abbreviations and Acronyms Used in Footnotes	xv
Chapter 1: The Everglades to the 1920s	1
Chapter 2: Early Conservation Efforts in the Everglades	40
Chapter 3: The Movement for a National Park in the Everglades	62
Chapter 4: The Long and Winding Road to Park Establishment	92
Chapter 5: First a Wildlife Refuge, Then a National Park	131
Chapter 6: Land Acquisition	150
Chapter 7: Developing the Park	176
Chapter 8: The Water Needs of a Wetland Park: From Establishment (1947) to Congress's Water Guarantee (1970)	213
Chapter 9: Water Issues, 1970 to 1992: The Rise of Environmentalism and the Path to the Restudy of the C&SF Project	237
Chapter 10: Wilderness Values and Wilderness Designations	270
Chapter 11: Park Science	288
Chapter 12: Wildlife, Native Plants, and Endangered Species	309
Chapter 13: Marine Fisheries, Fisheries Management, and Florida Bay	353
Chapter 14: Control of Invasive Species and Native Pests	373
Chapter 15: Wildland Fire	398
Chapter 16: Hurricanes and Storms	416
Chapter 17: Archeological and Historic Resources	430
Chapter 18: Museum Collection and Library	449
Chapter 19: Relationships with Cultural Communities	466
Chapter 20: Interpretive and Educational Programs	492
Chapter 21: Resource and Visitor Protection	526
Chapter 22: Relationships with the Military	549
Chapter 23: Concessions and Special Park Uses	564
Chapter 24: Cooperating Associations, Friends Groups, Employee Groups, Volunteers, Youth Conservation Corps	577
Chapter 25: Special Events	588
Chapter 26: Organization, Planning, Budgets, Relationships with Other NPS Units	595
Chapter 27: Park Designations and International Relationships	606

Chapter 28: The Everglades
Becomes a Test Case for Ecosystem Restoration: The Road to CERP	614
Bibliography	644
Illustration Sources	679
Index	681

Appendices

Appendix A: Legislation
Appendix B: Visitation
Appendix C: Budgets
Appendix D: Superintendents
Appendix E: Chronology
Appendix F: Capsule Biographies

List of Figures

Preface

Figure PR-1. Park entrance signs through the years	xii
--	-----

Chapter 1

Figure 1-1. Detail from Henry S.Tanner's 1823 map	2
Figure 1-2. Predrainage plant communities	7
Figure 1-3. Sawgrass marsh	8
Figure 1-4. Hammock vegetation	9
Figure 1-5. Pine upland	10
Figure 1-6. Mangroves on the Gulf coast	12
Figure 1-7. South Florida cultural areas, 2,000 years before present	15
Figure 1-8. Native American groups at contact	20
Figure 1-9. Pedro Menéndez de Avilés	21
Figure 1-10. St. Augustine in the Eighteenth Century	23
Figure 1-11. U.S. forces burning a Seminole town Pilak-li-ka-ha	26
Figure 1-12. Everglades Drainage District	31
Figure 1-13. Drill barge on Tamiami Canal, 1927	33
Figure 1-14. Mural celebrating the arrival of the railroad at Okeechobee	35
Figure 1-15. Housing for black tomato field workers, 1927	36
Figure 1-16. Belle Glade after the 1928 Hurricane	36
Figure 1-17. Coconuts awaiting shipment at Cape Sable	38

Chapter 2

Figure 2-1. Flamingos in the Bahamas	42
Figure 2-2. Lavish use of plumes in a hat	44
Figure 2-3. Audubon Warden Guy Bradley	46
Figure 2-4. May Mann Jennings	49
Figure 2-5. Telegram announcing the passage of the Royal Palm Park bill	50
Figure 2-6. Luncheon at the dedication of Royal Palm State Park	52
Figure 2-7. Lodge at Royal Palm State Park	53
Figure 2-8. Lodge interior, Royal Palm State Park	54
Figure 2-9. Limestone wall at Mathesson Hammock Park	56
Figure 2-10. CCC men sawing limestone at Royal Palm State Park, March 1934	58
Figure 2-11. Deer pen and feeding station at Royal Palm State Park, July 1934	58
Figure 2-12. Lily pond at Royal Palm State Park, July 1934	59

Chapter 3

Figure 3-1. Ernest F. Coe, circa 1930s	65
Figure 3-2. Everglades National Park Association postcard with proposed park boundary	66
Figure 3-3. Everglades National Park Association membership card	68
Figure 3-4A. Map with Ernest Coe's planned scenic highway	69
Figure 3-4B. Legend for map with planned scenic highway	70
Figure 3- 5. Tourist camp, Dade County	71
Figure 3-6. NPS inspection party and Goodyear blimp, 1930	76
Figure 3-7. NPS inspection party on boat, 1930	77
Figure 3-8. Maximum boundary from 1934 authorizing act	79
Figure 3-9. Cover of Olmstead-Wharton Report	86
Figure 3-10. Pen used by President Roosevelt to sign 1934 authorization act	91

Chapter 4

Figure 4-1. 1917 and 1937 Seminole reservations	94
Figure 4-2. Everglades National Park Commission map touting tourism	97
Figure 4-3. Miami Daily News blasts Governor Cone's attitude, Aug. 2, 1938	106
Figure 4-4. Daniel Beard's 1938 Wildlife Reconnaissance	110
Figure 4-5. Park boundary at establishment, 1947	129

Chapter 5

Figure 5-1. Air boat	132
Figure 5-2. Glades buggy with treads	133
Figure 5-3. Program for Everglades National Park dedication	135
Figure 5-4. Everglades Rod & Gun Club	137
Figure 5-5. First day cover, Everglades stamp	138
Figure 5-6. Marjory Stoneman Douglas	140
Figure 5-7. Miccosukee Indians presenting shirt to President Truman	141
Figure 5-8. Miccosukee shirt given to Daniel Beard	142
Figure 5-9. President Truman dedicating Everglades Nat'l Park, Dec. 6, 1947	144
Figure 5-10. Audience at park dedication	145
Figure 5-11. Ernest Coe letter with his customary leaf	147

Chapter 6

Figure 6-1. Fishing village of Flamingo, circa 1950	154
Figure 6-2. Abandoned automobile at Flamingo	155
Figure 6-3. Dr. Lunsford's house at Cape Sable	156

Figure 6-4. 1950s boundary changes	161
Figure 6-5. Bulldozer with scarifying blade for rock plowing	163
Figure 6-6. Iori Farms complex	164
Figure 6-7. Dreamland Estates advertisement, Miami Times , Nov. 13, 1961	165
Figure 6-8. Hole-in-the-Donut lands	166
Figure 6-9. The Impact of Evicting Farmers from the Hole-in-the-Donut	167
Figure 6-10. Protesting to keep farming in Hole-in-the-Donut	168
Figure 6-11. East Everglades lands	170

Chapter 7

Figure 7-1. NPS recreational map of Florida, circa 1935	177
Figure 7-2. Proposed Cape Sable Development	179
Figure 7-3. Coot Bay comfort station, National Parks Magazine 23/98 (July-Sep. 1949), p. 29	180
Figure 7-4. Royal Palm Ranger Station at completion, 1951	181
Figure 7-5. Parachute Key and Pine Island	183
Figure 7-6. Park developed areas	186
Figure 7-7. Cecil Doty drawing of Flamingo Visitor Center	187
Figure 7-8. Cecil Doty birds-eye view of proposed Flamingo development	188
Figure 7-9. Model of Flamingo visitor center and concession building, 1957	190
Figure 7-10. Flamingo comfort station	191
Figure 7-11. Flamingo comfort station after Hurricane Donna, Oct. 1960	193
Figure 7-12. Employee apartments at Flamingo, 1967	195
Figure 7-13. Park sign for Mission 66 project	196
Figure 7-14. Chickee checking station	197
Figure 7-15. Main Visitor Center	198
Figure 7-16. Interior of Main Visitor Center	199
Figure 7-17. Furnishing plan for park headquarters building	200
Figure 7-18. Ernest F. Coe Visitor Center	201
Figure 7-19. Employee residence at Pine Island	202
Figure 7-20. Laying a concrete pad at Long Pine campground	203
Figure 7-21. Shark Valley tower	205
Figure 7-22. Everglades City ranger station and boat basin	207
Figure 7-23. Key Largo ranger station	208
Figure 7-24. Cabin at Chekika, built 1950s	210

Chapter 8

Figure 8-1. The Central & Southern Florida Flood Control Plan	216
---	-----

Figure 8-2. Weeping cow booklet	218
Figure 8-3. One of the S-12 water control gates	223
Figure 8-4. Water control structures affecting Everglades National Park	225
Figure 8-5. Pumping from a well at the Anhinga Trail	232
Figure 8-6. Blasting a gator hole	233
 Chapter 9
Figure 9-1. Seadade and Islandia	240
Figure 9-2. Location of proposed jetport	243
Figure 9-3. Luna Leopold Report on the Jetport	246
Figure 9-4. Runway at the Jetport site	248
Figure 9-5. In the Big Cypress swamp	250
Figure 9-6. Everglades Agricultural Area	264
Figure 9-7. U.S. Sugar Corporation refinery at Clewiston	268
 Chapter 10
Figure 10-1. Everglades Wilderness Areas	278
Figure 10-2. Lopez River backcountry campsite	282
Figure 10-3. Indian Key backcountry campsite	283
Figure 10-4. Wilderness waterway	285
Figure 10-5. Canoeing in the backcountry	287
 Chapter 11
Figure 11-1. Game fish stocks were a focus of early research	291
Figure 11-2. 1960s droughts affected the nesting of great blue herons	293
Figure 11-3. Touting the new science program at Everglades, May 1978	300
Figure 11-4. Checking on the health of a tranquilized Florida panther	301
Figure 11-5. Modular laboratory at Florida Bay Interagency Science Center	307
 Chapter 12
Figure 12-1. Cuthbert Lake Rookery	309
Figure 12-2. Tricolor heron	316
Figure 12-3. Cape Sable seaside sparrow	319
Figure 12-4. Cape Sable seaside sparrow subpopulations	321
Figure 12-5. Bald eagle in flight	324
Figure 12-6. Brown pelican	326
Figure 12-7. Wild turkey	327
Figure 12-8. Relocating an alligator, 1960s	331

Figure 12-9. American crocodile	333
Figure 12-10. Park aide with an indigo snake	336
Figure 12-11. Green sea turtle	337
Figure 12-12. Green turtle hatchlings for release in the park	339
Figure 12-13. Liguus tree snail	340
Figure 12-14. Bartram's hairstreak butterfly	342
Figure 12-15. Florida panther photographed from a remote camera	345
Figure 12-16. Radio collar used in Florida panther research	348
Figure 12-17. Manatee	350
Figure 12-18. An air plant	352
 Chapter 13
Figure 13-1. A stone crab catch, 1965	356
Figure 13-2. Commercial fishing permit	357
Figure 13-3. Automated fish scaler at Flamingo dock	360
Figure 13-4. Fishing in the Ten Thousand Islands	366
Figure 13-5. Propeller scarring in Florida Bay	370
 Chapter 14
Figure 14-1. Pink bollworm	374
Figure 14-2. Flamingo camp for wild cotton eradication workers	375
Figure 14- 3. Australian pine	377
Figure 14-4. Melaleuca trees	378
Figure 14-5. A monotypic stand of Brazilian pepper in the Hole-in-the-Donut	379
Figure 14-6. Removing soil in the Hole-in-the-Donut	383
Figure 14-7. A spoil pile in the Hole-in-the-Donut with native vegetation	384
Figure 14-8. Invasive freshwater fish	388
Figure 14-9. Burmese python	390
Figure 14-10. Mosquito fogging at Flamingo, June 1965	396
 Chapter 15
Figure 15-1. Superintendent Beard's take on fire fighting	401
Figure 15-2. Setting the first prescribed burn	404
Figure 15-3. Different fire return intervals in pineland: 7-8 years on left, 2-3 years on right	412
Figure 15-4. Fire Management Units	415

Chapter 16

Figure 16-1. Damaged Flamingo concessioner shop from Hurricane Donna	417
Figure 16-2. Damage in pine uplands from Hurricane Andrew, 1992	423
Figure 16-3. Houseboats floated onto dock by Hurricane Katrina, 2005	425
Figure 16-4. Flamingo housing area following Hurricane Wilma, 2005	427

Chapter 17

Figure 17-1. The remains of a prehistoric ceramic pot found in the park	433
Figure 17-2. A prehistoric deer pin found in the park	434
Figure 17-3. Archeological site work	437
Figure 17-4. Cistern at House Hammock	438
Figure 17-5. Remains of a tannin factory in park	439
Figure 17-6. Artifacts from the fishing village at Flamingo	442
Figure 17-7. CCC-built garage at Royal Palm	443
Figure 17-8. Nike Base HM-69, aerial view of the launch area	447

Chapter 18

Figure 18-1. American crocodile skull	450
Figure 18-2. Archival storage room in the Robertson building in 2002	452
Figure 18-3. Storage of wet specimens in 2002	457
Figure 18-4. Preparing for the rehabilitation of Beard Center space	458
Figure 18-5. Storage of audio-visual materials in 2002	459
Figure 18-6. Jean Schardt's conservation treatment on a bobcat specimen	461
Figure 18-7. Nike base warning sign in the South Florida Collections Management Center	465

Chapter 19

Figure 19-1. A Seminole camp on the Tamiami Trail, 1927	468
Figure 19-2. A Miccosukee in a cypress canoe	471
Figure 19-3. Miccosukee Reserved Area	476
Figure 19-4. Miccosukee resort at Dade Corners	478
Figure 19-5. A vanished way of life at Flamingo	485
Figure 19-6. Flyer announcing "Flooding on the Way"	489

Chapter 20

Figure 20-1. An early Audubon tour boat	493
Figure 20-2. Fishing reserved for the birds	495
Figure 20-3. Visitors on Anhinga Trail, early 1950s	497

Figure 20-4. Park receptionist and naturalists, 1960s	498
Figure 20-5. Flamingo exhibits, circa 1960	499
Figure 20-6. Boat-a-Cade	500
Figure 20-7. Bernard P. Thomas at work on the mural in the visitor center	501
Figure 20-8. Exhibits in Ernest F. Coe Visitor Center	502
Figure 20-9. Mahogany Hammock trailhead	504
Figure 20-10. A porcelain-enamel wayside, 2012	505
Figure 20-11. An NPS-operated tram	506
Figure 20-12. Glass-bottomed boat at John Pennekamp State Park	509
Figure 20-13. Park brochures through the years	511
Figure 20-14. Second printing of Everglades – The Park Story	512
Figure 20-15. Junior Ranger booklet	514
Figure 20-16. AIRIE artist Lisa Elmaleh photograph entitled Slash Pines	520
Figure 20-17. Environmental education group, 1970s	521
Figure 20-18. Environmental Education activities, winter 1972-1973	525
 Chapter 21
Figure 21-1. Law enforcement districts	529
Figure 21-2. Rangers and other staff, winter 1951-1952	530
Figure 21-3. Ranger with fishermen, 1967	532
Figure 21-4. Moving a gator, 1960s	535
Figure 21-5. The park's first airplane	539
Figure 21-6. Rangers with "square grouper"	542
 Chapter 22
Figure 22-1. A B-52 bomber and its mission	551
Figure 22-2. HM-69 radars	558
 Chapter 23
Figure 23-1. Coot Bay concessions, circa 1949	565
Figure 23-2. Coffee shop at Flamingo	566
Figure 23-3. Houseboat rental brochure	568
Figure 23-4. Everglades Park Company Flamingo brochure	569
Figure 23-5. Everglades Park Company deed	570
Figure 23-6. Concessioner boat at Everglades City	573
Figure 23-7. A bicycling event in the park, 2010	576

Chapter 24

Figure 24-1. Everglades Natural History cover	578
Figure 24-2. The Anbinga through the years	580
Figure 24-3. Doors of the Everglades Discovery shop in Coe Visitor Center	582
Figure 24-4. VIPs painting tire stops at Chekika	586
Figure 24-5. A VIP preparing to apply herbicide to an Australian pine, 2013	587

Chapter 25

Figure 25-1. Invitation to 50 th anniversary	591
Figure 25-2. Vice President Gore at 50 th anniversary	592
Figure 25-3. Panther sculpture	594

Chapter 26

Figure 26-1. Fort Jefferson in Dry Tortugas National Park	601
Figure 26-2. Coral in Biscayne National Park	604
Figure 26-3. Cypress in Big Cypress National Preserve	605

Chapter 27

Figure 27-1. World Heritage plaque	606
Figure 27-2. Mangroves at Inagua National Park, Bahamas	612
Figure 27-3. A view in Pantanal Matogrossense National Park, Brazil	613

Chapter 28

Figure 28-1. Tomato growing	620
Figure 28-2. North New River Canal	623
Figure 28-3. Sugar cane in the Everglades Agricultural Area	625
Figure 28-4. Metropolitan Miami, a large consumer of water	633
Figure 28-5. Sunset over Florida Bay	642